

7521103684.txt

The internet is a place of cultural and personal expression and cable companies have no place putting restrictions on people's freedom of expression.