

7521104282.txt

I think it is disgusting that you are even considering allow this merger to go through. This would clearly establish a monopoly in the telecommunications industry and destroy any sense of competition leaving the everyday citizen vulnerable to one company's will. The internet is now a basic necessity in life and to place it solely in the power of one company would be a horrible decision.