

7521104333.txt

As a concerned citizen and frequent internet user, I am afraid the Internet Service Providers will abuse their power over the internet for financial gain. Therefore, I request that the FCC reclassify home, business, and cellular broadband as a telecommunication service; regulated as a service available to all Americans equally through the same channels as phone and electricity.