I want all ISP's in the United States to be classified as "Common Carrier". I don't accept a threat to them that if they cross some imaginary line that the FCC will threaten such action. Large Internet Service Providers already have crossed the line. I will accept nothing less. It is outrageous that internet providers are allowed to be content and also internet providers. It should be one or the other not both. As a customer it is going against my ability to communicate freely as things stand today and have been proposed recently in the news from the FCC chairman. I want current net neutrality laws to be enforced not weakened. As a tax payer I accept nothing less.
