Killing Net Neutrality is an absolutely sickening concept. I refuse to believe that the Government of this great country would completely ignore the rights of its citizens to cater to the super rich minority - to gain a few more measly dollars, at that. The millions upon millions of dollars spent every year by the super rich to lobby - or bribe, whichever you prefer - politicians into giving them what they want disgusts me. The voice of the people is going completely unheeded. It is an absolute bastardization of the democratic ideals upon which this country was founded. We the people are very dissatisfied with the oligarchy that currently dominates the political scene in America. The FCC WILL NOT allow the mega-trust corporations to destroy the basic rights of every living American; Of this I am sure.
