

7521106078.txt

The FCC should reclassify broadband internet as a telecommunications (or "Common carrier") service in order to insure that it remains open and equal for all. Everyone has a right to have equal access to the internet!