

7521106369.txt

Broadband internet should be classified as a telecommunications provider. Destroying net neutrality breaks down the free sharing of information on the internet, it changes the structure from an open square where everyone is equal to an oligarchy where those with the most money have the most power. Treat the internet as a common carrier, save net neutrality!