

7521106560.txt

I am writing to comment on the upcoming consideration of the rules impacting "net neutrality." Please do not approve any rules that allow ISPs to selectively alter the speeds for content. I do not believe the ISPs are credible guardians of content, and I do believe that in this case, their quest for profit runs counter to the American citizen's access to information.

Please stand with the average American, and oppose this huge lobbies efforts to weaken your regulatory power, and our freedoms.