

7521107280.txt

The internet as a whole does not belong to any one person or group, isp's are not looking out for anyone but themselves.
This is the future of media distribution They have to cope with the fact that their time has passed and that land lines and cable tv are obsolete.