

7521107318.txt

Please classify internet services as a common carrier. In an ever growing country that relies on internet services and will continue to rely on them for the foreseeable future citizens will need the internet just like they need utilities.

Allowing a few Internet Service Providers complete control to a basic human right so they can maximize their profits however they see fit is unjust and unethical. The United Nations defines the right to internet access as a basic human right.