

7521107612.txt

Dear FCC

Please don't take a massive metaphorical dump on net neutrality.

Allowing ISPs to give preferential treatment to data will only lead to some pretty dirty tactics on their part.

Competitor's websites probably would be shunted into a 'slow lane' to squash competition.

Content producers/media can also be meddled with in the same way.

This would obviously be a bad thing for society. Data equality is kind of important!