

7521109226.txt

Defend Net Neutrality! We need to support the USER, the ones who use the internet to discover their passion, to learn, and one day some of those users will create something new and fantastic for the betterment of mankind (you never know). A kid in Kansas could discover his passion for medicine from a forum or a video on the internet and decide to pursue it and one day cure something. Do not limit that for power/money-hungry greedy corporations. No monopolies! Please consider classifying broadband internet as a telecommunications service. Thank you for your time.