

7521109571.txt

You need to reclassify broadband Internet as a common carrier telecommunications service. If you do not it could kill competition and further stagnate the economy. The Internet needs to remain neutral and free as it should be, you cannot have freedoms like this be bullied around by big companies who are near monopolies.