

7521109590.txt

You know what everyone would love? If you reclassified broadband internet as a title II common carrier telecommunications service. That would be super.