

7521110108.txt

Net neutrality can be seen as one of the most important things this generation has, it promotes growth, ideas, information, and equality for those who want to live their lives the way they choose.