

7521110189.txt

Net Neutrality is a hallmark on our access to the information of the world and -must- be preserved.

By not reclassifying the ISPs as telecommunications providers you are allowing them to discriminate which data should get the 'fast lane' which is very hurtful to competition in general.