

hello fellow people of the FCC

I'm here today to you know that I'm defending my rights toward net neutrality. as a digital artist I feel that my rights are being taken away due to the limitations that our internet providers are charging and taking away the amount of data streaming throughout the U.S. this is not going to help the consumers as much as finance's go; more or less adding the new problems to this issue. we're far too advance to the point where the internet is very helpful in terms of Business and personal use, not to mention social media has a very important roll now since most sites and devices incorporated toward it. Its not very wise for this idea to go through and more importantly it saves a lot of problems later on. I'm here to defends my rights on net neutrality and I won't allow this to happen . that is all. good day.
