

7521110927.txt

Classify broadband internet as a common carrier service. Internet Service Providers have as much right to tell me what I can do with the bandwidth that I am purchasing as the power company has to dictate what I do with my electricity, or the phone company with what I say on a phone call.