

7521111071.txt

Please keep the internet open and free from censorship and discrimination. By allowing ISPs to interfere with normal data flow, ISPs will use their monopoly power to stifle competition. The internet is as vital to Americans as water and electricity, and must be treated in the same way. We pay for what we use, and ISPs or anyone else should have no ability to monitor, sensor or restrict that data flow.