

7521111310.txt

the net should stay neutral due to the fact that it is a service of providing access to a type of utility like electricity or water if the internet providers are allowed to say what parts of the internet get what amount of speed it would be like if the water company said if you want to use the water we send you for a shower it will cost extra which is just crazy!