It is necessary to classify Internet Service Providers as Title II Common Carriers. There exists the very real possibility for abuse that will stifle the future economic well being of the United States, stifle innovation, and limit the freedom of consumers to choose the content they desire. The internet has become one of the largest platforms for the communication and expression of thoughts and ideas in human history. As a platform for communication the internet should be treated much like phone lines in that this communication should be neutral and all data should be treated equally by the carriers.
