

7521111949.txt

ISPs need to be classified as common carriers. Without this classification, the potential for abuse to the general public by corporate interest is greatly augmented.