This comment is about The Net Neutrality. As a internet user I would like to have access to all content at all time with the same speed. The internet carrier has already charged me and my family for their service and my access to internet. Thus, I require the service i have paid for. Slowing down my access to certain website using their internet that I have already paid for is unlawful. They should not be able to cheat and take advantage of the system.
Internet must stay Open, fair, and unbiased.
