

7521112253.txt

The FCC should fight for net neutrality so prevent companies from taking advantage of customers in certain areas. Where I live there are a limited number of ISPs and my choices are limited. If net neutrality dies I'm having to pay more to use the internet in the ways I want to and am already paying for.