

7521113551.txt

As good as it sounds, I don't trust businesses to act in the common citizen's well-being. It's essential that Internet Service Providers be classified as Title II Common Carriers so that the United States remains a free, open place to do business.