

7521113562.txt

As a citizen of the United States and a small business entrepreneur working on starting a new net-based venture, I request that Internet Service Providers be reclassified as Title II Common Carriers. Failure to do so can lead to systematic restriction of services that can and most likely will lead to the anti-competitive stifling of small businesses on the internet.