

7521113855.txt

Please do NOT let any company or companies control the speed of any content on the internet. Data is data and should be all treated equally. What I love and find interesting may or may not seem interesting to anyone else, but I should not have my experience dampened by a company who chooses to slow down my choices because they are not main stream.