

~net neutralitee pls~

In all seriousness, it is a most heinous act that you are even considering letting this transgression go unhindered. By allowing Internet Service Providers to pick and choose which data has preference, you are, in effect, allowing them to punish consumers. The United States has some of the highest prices per bandwidth unit in the world, and this would only serve to further screw over the consumers that are already dealing with an aging infrastructure. America is not the great titan of industry it once was, and permitting the industry to provide detriment to consumers is preventing the citizens from excelling above, and restoring America's greatness. As a federal organization, you have a duty to uphold the tenets of justice and righteousness this nation was founded upon. Restore net neutrality, and it will prevent a slippery slope that will end in consumers' tears.
