Hol a!

I run a small business on the internet, called Glass Bottom Games:
glassbottomgames.com

... and as we rely on the internet being an equal playing field, please, for the love of pete, classify it as a common carrier service. If you don't, it's going to destroy the internet we all grew up with, and put a giant kink into its ability to continue evolving society for good. This is not something we can trust giant corporations with, they need to be regulated before they break it permanently.

Thanks,
Megan
