

7521114569.txt

ISPs are not information service providers, they are telecommunications providers. Please consider reclassifying broadband internet, like telephone service, as a title II common carrier telecommunications service.