

7521114599.txt

The internet is and should be treated as public property. No corporations should be allowed to impose rules to the usage of this property, especially those that benefit them financially at the expense of others. All users should have the same access! Internet providers should be Common Carriers that do not give preference to certain businesses.

Maintain Net Neutrality!