

7521115582.txt

As possibly one of the greatest achievements of mankind, the internet is the greatest form of communication and should be open and neutral for all. Please reclassify broadband internet as a telecommunications service instead of favoring massive companies that already have more power over the economy than most state governments.