

7521116539.txt

Having open access to the internet is very clearly a public service, similar to water and electricity. My job requires that I have a consistent internet connection at home, and any amount of filtering from the ISP would severely damage my ability to work. Please make ISPs common carriers so we can treat the internet how it needs to be treated.