

7521118909.txt

The preservation of Net Neutrality is imperative to keep competition free and open to all. Not for providers to charge customers, users or heaven for bid, providers to have access to customers like was done to Netflix. That slippery road turns the internet into another machine of commerce vs the free and open access to information that it was intended to be.