

7521118995.txt

I believe that broadband should remain a neutral playing field. As I am getting ready to proceed to college, I am faced with the fact that the net is becoming more controlled and this concerns me due to the fact that services will be forced to higher prices, which in turn will fall on me, the consumer.