

7521119095.txt

It is imperative that you classify Internet Service Providers as title II common carriers. The internet they provide should not be segregated into slow and fast lanes. I am a software engineer, I fully understand the processes by which the internet runs. The only way to keep the internet functioning properly is to prevent providers of the internet from segregating traffic.