

7521119387.txt

Please keep the internet open to all! Internet service providers should be labeled as telecommunication companies. The internet is as important as radio, television, cable, phone... And even more so in many instances.