

7521119785.txt

ISPs are common carriers.

The Fast Lane plan will inhibit the flow of information and accordingly inhibit the flow of free speech. Just because ISPs are not currently required to affirm the right to free speech does not imply they have the right to inhibit it.