

7521119820.txt

reclassi fy broadband internet as a title II common carrier telecommunications service, because as it is, if internet carriers don't have to uphold net neutrality, the very thing that allowed the internet to become what it is, it damages and endangers, not just america, but the whole of the internet.