ISPs are Common Carriers. The public needs the FCC to take action to label ISPs common carriers. I live rurally and I have limited choices around my Internet Provider. I pay a premium for slow internet that barely crawls when my kids come home from school and do their homework, which is online! I meanwhile have a business making websites for local small businesses. I need free access to good bandwidth, which I can't buy for ANY price here in rural Vermont. Now, ISPs are asking businesses that own websites to pay more for the same access. When I call my bank on the phone will they be denying my call or delaying it because my bank did not pay a bribe. This is clearly bribery that helps larger businesses who can afford bribes to stay in business and pushes smaller businesses out. Please do the right thing for the Citizens of America whose telecommunications you protect.
