

7521120326.txt

I, as a citizen of a country that is founded on freedom of speech and information access have the right to an unrestricted internet experience. As a free citizen, I reject the notion that a select few should have the right to control what I see and experience while making a profit for the reduction and control of the access I have to the media and information I wish to view.