

7521121065.txt

Please stop catering to business interests. You work for the people and the people expect you to represent their interests. The people's interests are supported by an open and neutral internet backbone and services. The ONLY reason to support a pay for play system is to create division and protect the interest of the established infrastructure. An infrastructure you have been terrible about protecting us from. I personally have only 1 internet option and it is incredibly expensive for speed that is ridiculously slow. I expect more from the agency that is supposed to have expertise in regulating this utility.