Please, FCC, reclassifiy the broadband internet as common carrier service. Let the internet continue to be the sanctuary of free and equal access it was meant to be. Let the large corporations have television and telephones. But let us, the people keep our internet. While, the internet may not have convincing lobbies, or large sums of money, we do have power in numbers. If you don't let the internet stay neutral, this will become SOPA part 2. In closing, let the internet continue to be what the people want, not what a wealthy few corporations, seeking self-gain, want. Thank you.
