

7521121585.txt

Reclassify the internet as telecommunications services to protect it from the power of cable companies to say what we see at what speeds. This would protect true freedom of speech in our modern world.