The FCC needs to take steps to promote "Net Neutrality" primarily by classifying all ISPs as Common Carriers so they fall under an actual law which should prevent them from invoking their own forms of internet censorship. ISPs currently have monopolies in large parts of the country and the internet is a medium of communication just like radios. Step up and stop listening to the corporate lobbyists.

Mr. Wheeler, I'm ashamed that you believe a simple letter and an ISPs code of honor will prevent them from doing what Comcast is already doing to Netflix.
