

7521122930.txt

Comissioner Wheeler's proposed net neutrality changes are anti-consumer and anti-business and will hurt the internet as we know it. Allowing ISP's the option of a "fast lane" that some business can "opt" to pay more for means that established companies will be able to buy an advantage over start-ups who might otherwise go on to become the next google or apple. Let's let everyone have a common playing field.