

7521125103.txt

I am totally against the proposed "fast lane" approach.

Capitalism is fine but this goes beyond free market. While we are at it, I think that FCC personnel should be barred from working in or for the industry they regulate for 20 years before and after serving in the FCC.

People like me do notice what is going on at the FCC and will remember for a long time. There is too much industry lobbying going on and it needs to stop.