Dear FCC,

I'm David Torres and I live in Chicago Heights, IL.

Net neutrality, the principle that Internet service providers (ISPs) should treat all data that travels over their networks equally, is important to me because without it ISPs could have too much power to determine my Internet experience by providing better access to some services but not others.

A pay-to-play Internet worries me because new, innovative services that can't afford expensive fees for better service will be less likely to succeed.

The future of the internet matters because the internet is the future. Please classify the internet as a Title II common carrier.
