

“We stand to lose what we built in the first 20 years of the Internet — a world built on interoperability, open standards — where anyone who could learn the tools could participate.”

-Ryan Merkley

