

7521126792.txt

I request that the FCC declare the internet a title II common carrier. Furthermore, I request that the fast lane proposal not be allowed to move forward.

I use the internet for EVERYTHING and I am not alone. It is not a luxury good and it does not exist solely for entertainment. I use the internet to do business, communicate, do research, and even search for jobs. The people of the US need for this nonsense to end. There is no reason why we the people should have to fight for the proper classification of internet service.

We as a country go around shouting we are #1, and we have fallen far from the necessary standards to maintain that reality. Killing the internet would be the final nail in our collective coffin.